STEP AWAY FROM THE CROWD

Transform into a leader who can bring positive change to the world. Achieve growth through academic excellence and fun.

Skip anonymous classrooms packed with students. Skip conversations with professors who don't know your name. Skip the cookie-cutter future. Come to the heart of Seattle, where Seattle University is waiting for you.

GET TO KNOW

OUR CLASSROOMS

Walk into a class at Seattle University and it might surprise you. Here we have students building unmanned drones, collecting data at a Salish Sea field station and creating solutions to problems for Seattle-area companies. Undergraduate students partner with faculty members to conduct publishable research and to learn beyond a textbook.

But the most important thing about our classrooms is where they'll take you next. Want to work at a Fortune 500 company? Our alumni hold internships and jobs at Microsoft, Nordstrom, Harborview Medical Center and other industry-leading employers. Want attend a top graduate school? Our students go on to graduate studies at top schools across the country.

GET TO KNOW

OUR PROFESSORS

Our dedicated professors are not just educators—they are collaborators, industry leaders and, most of all, champions for your success.

Combined with our small class sizes, you'll get plenty of personal attention. You'll also get the chance to participate in undergraduate research under the guidance of these same teachers. Later that translates into better recommendations for graduate school and more thoughtful placements for internships.

Want to be part of a research project? We have plenty of opportunities so you can gain experience as an undergrad.

OUR CAMPUS

Seattle University's 55-acre campus is considered one of the most sustainable in the United States. That translates into a lush, green space with plenty of trees and places to lounge outdoors.

But SU's stellar reputation is not just about our amazing outdoor spaces. It's about our reflective spaces ready for your quiet contemplation. It's about our makerspaces ready for your creativity. It's about every corner of campus—from our athletic fields to our classrooms—that awakens when students become Redhawks.

Our location is unbeatable for professional formation. It provides access and ample opportunities for internships and careers at some of the largest companies in the world.

YOUR HOME IN THE CITY:

RESIDENT HOUSING & DINING

Even the most experienced city dweller needs a home base. So we ask first- and second-year students to stay on-campus unless they're living with family. With nine residential options available to different levels of undergraduates, you'll find housing that grows with your needs.

We also have six dining locations on campus, where you can choose from dozens of options. Grab an orange blossom iced coffee for an afternoon treat, then stop for some fresh sushi or a wood fired pizza after classes are done. With a focus on variety, nutrition and sustainability, you'll find plenty to tempt your taste buds.

Our centrally located residential campus gives you the best of all worlds—a caring community that feels like home, steps away from everything Seattle has to offer.

ATHLETIC PRIDE

REDHAWKS SOAR

With 20 varsity teams competing in NCAA Division I and the Western Athletic Conference, Redhawks have plenty to cheer about. Our gifted student athletes have brought home more than 60 conference championships over the past 10 years, with thousands of Redhawks cheering them on. We're also preparing for our July 2025 return to the West Coast Conference, where Redhawks will face rivals new and old.

Not a student athlete? We have 17 club sports and intramural sports leagues with tournaments offered year-round. Whatever your skill level, we welcome you to participate in the joy athletics can bring.

GET TO KNOW

YOURSELF

Knowing yourself is the work of a lifetime. So, choose a proven method of self-discovery that's been shaping individuals for nearly 500 years.

Jesuit education is the roadmap you can use to explore your beliefs, your identity and your passions. Later these values can inform your goals and help you make your deepest passion part of your life's work.

Since everyone—professors, staff and fellow students—are on the same journey, you'll find an inclusive community that's ready to help you realize your full potential.

Seattle University is where you can nourish your mind, but also shape the person you want to be.

GET TO KNOW SEATTLE

Seattle isn't a college town, but it's perfect for college students. It's a global city—a known tech hub that draws thousands of people to the area. It's the home of Microsoft, Starbucks and Costco.

But Seattle isn't just for tech or business majors. It's where musicians come to write award-winning songs. It's where artists come to refine their work. It's where activists, athletes and environmentalists all come to contribute to this vibrant, bustling city.

Catch a streetcar to the International District for an amazing bahn mi or to Lumen Field to cheer on the Mariners. Stroll across Alki Beach or see a new band at The Showbox. Whatever your interests, Seattle has something for you.

GET TO KNOW

YOUR FUTURE

Since 1891, Seattle University has worked to create an environment that encourages questioning the status quo—while thinking critically and acting ethically.

Seattle University finds the needs of our students and works to meet them. And right now, we know that students need a rigorous education that will prepare them to meet their futures. So, whether you want to go to graduate school, law school or immediately start your new career, we have the classes and internships to make it possible.

An exciting future await you, here at SU and beyond.

FUND YOUR FUTURE

TUITION, SCHOLARSHIPS AND FINANCIAL AID

We want you to invest in your future with clarity and support. Let us help you navigate the financial aid process and find a clear path toward your academic and professional goals.

A high-quality education is a big investment and we're committed to investing in you—not just for one year, either. The institutional gift aid that we include in your financial aid package is guaranteed for the years you're eligible. It's financial support you can plan on.

GET TO KNOW

OUR PROCESS

Considering what you want your future to be? Seattle University is built to answer that question while helping you make your current dreams a reality.

So, take the next step. Plan a visit, ask a question or go ahead and apply. Follow these three simple steps to become a Redhawk:

1. START YOUR APPLICATION

We accept the Common Application for first-year applicants or the Seattle University Transfer Application for transfer applicants.

2. REVIEW APPLICATION REQUIREMENTS AND SUBMIT MATERIALS

Request transcripts and recommendations and write essays per your program application requirements. Submitting test scores is optional. Pay the $60 fee or request a waiver.

3. REVIEW AND SUBMIT

Double-check your application for completeness, submit it by the deadline and monitor your status through the Redhawk Applicant Portal, where you may see requests for additional documentation.

More detailed instructions, including application deadlines, can be found at seattleu.edu/apply.

ENVISION YOUR FUTURE

Come see our beautiful, modern campus and meet our helpful Admissions team. Daily campus tours and admissions events take place year-round.

Go to seattleu.edu/visit to RSVP or check out our virtual tour.
